

WD-Assign13 – Advanced CSS Classes Vs. Rules

In the last lesson you learned to create CSS Rules and CSS Classes. In this assignment you will create a page that explains the difference between CSS Rules and CSS Classes.

Use CSS Rules to decorate the headings for the page and two different classes to decorate the two paragraphs of explanation. You must also change the background color of the page. When creating your classes you should consider:

- padding
- background color
- border color, style, width
- text color and font choice

Save this file as firstnamelastname-WDAssign13.html and hand it in to my drop folder.

There is a samples provided on the next page.

WD-Assign13 Rubric– Advanced CSS Classes Vs. Rules

CSS Rules are used properly to control and decorate body, h1 and h2.	/5
CSS Classes are used to decorate and control two different paragraphs	/5
Student has modified padding, background color, border color, border style border width, text color and font-family for each class or rule	/10
Page validates and code is well written	/5
Written content on the page shows that student has an understanding of the difference between CSS rules and CSS classes.	/5
-----
Total	/30

CSS Rules Vs. CSS Classes

Created Using a CSS Rule for <h1> in the head Section

---

What are CSS Rules?

CSS Rule for <h2> in the head section

---

This is a paragraph that is decorated by a css class that you created in the head section. In this paragraph you will explain what a CSS Rule is and how it is different from a CSS Class.

special class created in head and applied to paragraph

---

What are CSS Classes?

Already defined <h2> in head section

---

This is a paragraph that is decorated by a different css class that you created in the head section. In this paragraph you will explain what a CSS class is and how it is different from a CSS Rule.

Another special class created in head and applied to paragraph